Building relationships, supporting our community

David Ryan
President/CEO

"I love working with your people."

That's something customers tell me often, and I'm proud that they value our relationship and trust our dependable, local bank.

I invite you to work with our people, too.

We want to get to know you and your story, as we have for customers over the past 139 years. You can trust our sound banking services and staff. And we hope you appreciate our commitment to OUR community. From staff volunteerism to bank donations, we are committed to the organizations and causes you care about.

Simply, our values match yours, and we'd be honored to do business with you.
